Ok ok. It's finally done. Sorry it took so long, but I'm glad you all chose to comment on this. It helped remind me to keep working on it and it made me really happy :D

Anyway, sorry if it's not the best. The first panel definitely isn't, but I couldn't find a good way to fix it.

So sorry again. But here it is!

[image]

Hope you liked it! I'll get started on the next page soon. I already have it penciled out.

Stay safe!

~Pg 6~

Here it is! Page 6! The next two pages are fairly simple, so I'll probably get them done today or tomorrow.

~Pg 7~

Did something a little different for this chapter. Thoughts?

~Page 8~

So I ummm..... actually finished this page a few days ago.....

Please don't kill me.

Stay safe!

~Page 9~

I finished another page. YoU'rE wElCoMe YoU iMpAtIeNt BeAnS!

This page is a little bit confusing, so I added arrows and just to clear things up, Deer is watching the bird. THE BIRD IS NOT RANDOM!

[image]

Hope you liked it!

Anyway, I go bai bai now.

~Page 10~

Here it is.....

[image]

I'm almost done with the next page. So I'm hoping to post that one tomorrow. Sorry this page took so long to get out!

Stay safe y'all!

So I finished all the pages I already had drawn. Which means that the next page is going to take quite a while to finish. Sorry!

Also sorry that I messed up on Eggkit's pose XD

DISCLAIMER! If there are any mistakes please tell me! My tablet is stupid and decides to ruin the grammar and I can't always fix it.

Stay safe y'all!

Alright alright

I know you wanted this to be a new page.

But I haven't been working on pages.

I've been working on designs and maps.

So I'll post the maps later.

But here is Deerpaw's redesign.

And the art above is made by thelastwilddragoness . It's so amazing! So thanks so much dragoness :D

And the art down below are just a whole bunch of bases thrown together because I didn't want to draw everything differently and then have to color each character differently as well. So creates to the peeps who made the bases.

~Maps~

Finallllyyyyyyy!

They're really simple designs but are needed all the same.

[image]

So there's those. But I can't start on the next page yet. SO MANY FREAKING PEOPLE JOINED OCEANCLAN! And so I have to design all their cats and add them into the plot :D

~Pg 12~

I finally did it!

I finally finished this page!

Sorry it took so long.....

Blame my math homework and art block.

~Little (KIND OF IMPORTANT) Thing~

Okay, so I want to know y'alls opinions on something. I'm finding it hard to find time to panel/page board, do line art, and color all of these pages for the comic. But I really don't want to just leave the story here.

I was wondering if you guys would like it if I continued the story by way of just writing and then I could illustrate my favorite/the more important/tense scenes? Like, every time a new character is introduced I would do a drawing of them, or some of the battle scenes I have planned.

Then I also have maybe three more pages planned, so I could draw those then write it all.

I'll probably end up doing this, but I want to know all of your opinions first.

Chapter 2 Continuation

Okay so little note, I know I mentioned earlier that Deer is called Deerkit now. But uh, just ignore that. He's still Deer. Past self was just an idiot :')

Also, sorry the art seems rushed (it was). I've been super busy and just went "screw this" and rushed everything to post this lol.

Enjoy!

Deer walked slowly into the Leader's den. It was circular in shape, with a nest on the opposite side of it. Inside the den were four cats. Much more than he was expecting.

Deer's ears flattened against his head, and he felt himself instinctively sink into the ground to try to look smaller. Four cats were far too many for a casual meeting.

"Hello Deer," Shimmerstar said, "I'd like you to meet Whirlwave, my deputy. And you already know Darkshadow and Bigfoot, our medicine cats."

"H-hi," Deer squeaked out.

[image]

"Don't be nervous Deer!" Bigfoot smiled kindly, "We only wanted to ask you a question!"

"...okay," Deer mumbled.

"We wanted to know if you have any family. If so, we would like to try and get you back to them," Shimmerstar meowed.

"Family?"

Deer closed his amber eyes for a second, memories and images of Pixie and his siblings flashing through his mind. He wished he could say he missed them.

He missed Rose.

[image]

Deer opened his eyes with a small smile, "I had a family!" he frowned, "but I was too worthless to keep around."

[image]

Shimmerstar was frowning, "What do you mean?"

"My mama, Pixie took me to one of those floating twoleg things. She said we were gonna see the ocean! Then she.... She.... and... I fell...."

"...did she... push you off?" Shimmerstar asked quietly.

Deer hesitated for a moment. If he agreed, would that be betraying his mama? But she did do it, so it would also be being honest. Would these cats judge his mama? He didn't want that to happen!

After all, she must have had a good reason to do it. She was always right.

Deer nodded slowly.

"What kind of a mother would do that to her kit?! I should give her death berries for hurting an innocent kit like that!" Bigfoot hissed, "She would deserve it too!"

Deer shrank backward. Was she mad at him? She had no reason to be! Why was she judging his mama so much?

Shimmerstar flicked her tail over Bigfoot's muzzle, effectively silencing her, "It's okay Deer. You did nothing wrong," she paused for a moment, "Do you want to go back to your family?"

Did he? They were his family... but they also teased him for being the smallest. And they called him names.

But he missed Rose....

"....I dunno," Deer meowed quietly.

"That's okay," Shimmerstar said.

"You're too injured to leave anyway," Darkshadow added.

Breathing did hurt... how injured was Deer?! Could he have died....?

Bigfoot sent a quick glare to Darkshadow, "You'll be okay in a few days though!"

That was good. Maybe then he would leave? Deer wasn't sure though. He didn't really like these cats. Or know them all that well. But Eggkit and Pebblesplash were nice....

"This brings us the question of what our next move should be," Shimmerstar.

"If I may," Whirlwave began, continuing when Shimmerstar nodded, "Maybe we should wait until Deer is healed to decide. Then he can choose if he wants to go or not."

Shimmerstar thought for a moment, then nodded, "That could work. Darkshadow, how long do you think it would take before his injuries are healed?"

"Mm, maybe a moon," Darkshadow replied.

"That long?" Shimmerstar asked.

Darkshadow nodded, "There's nothing I can do about it."

"He'd be around apprentice age," Whirlwave noted.

Shimmerstar took another look at Deer, "You're right. You're about that age, right Deer?"

"...Uh, I'm f-five moons," Deer squeaked out.

"Then it's decided!" Shimmerstar stood with a flick of her tail, "In one moon, we'll have another conversation like this one. Until then, welcome to the clan!"

//Discontinued//

Hey! Sorry, but I'm discontinuing this book.

It's kind of been on the back burner for a while, and it's gotten really hard to enjoy writing and drawing.

Plus, the roleplay that inspired this has died, which makes motivation hard to find.

Unfortunately, I don't see myself picking this back up in the future, but I do have another graphic novel in the works and am hoping to post it.... NEXT WEEK!

I'm so excited for this one! And it's definitely going to be finished!

Sorry again!
